Have Frisbee will travel

Stratton school students can always count on 5th grade teacher Mr. Swimm to have his Frisbee with him when he has recess duty. (Steve Mitman photo)

Hard at work

Above, Strong School 3rd grade teacher, Shelby Newell works with Tyler Sweetser on a writing project. The "rolling laptop lab" sees regular use in Newell's room as well as many other classrooms at school. For over a decade, MSAD #58 has aggressively integrated technology into the classroom to enhance learning opportunities for students. (Steve Mitman photo)

Under the table book buddies

First grader, Isaiah Finn reads to his 7th grade reading partner, James Wilson, in a quiet place in the classroom. The older student gets a chance to read aloud to an appreciative audience, while the younger partner gets an opportunity to hear fluent oral reading as well as to read aloud to a "real" audience. Both ages look forward to this weekly activity. (Steve Mitman photo)
