Scholarship winner

Joanna Swihart, a junior at Carrabec High School in North Anson won a $500 scholarship from "The Kennebec Valley Chapter of Credit Unions Awards." Swihart wrote a 500-word essay on the topic "What are the most challenging money management issues that students have to face after graduation?" This was the third year that Carrabec High School's Personal Finance class attended the Financial Fitness Fair at KVCC sponsored by Maine's Credit Unions.

That's the spirit

Mario Gerardi, a fifth grade student at Kingfield Elementary School, is dressed as a "hippy" as part of Spirit Week at the school. Friday was "hat day." Gerardi personally thought he looked more like "Goldilocks." (Laura Dunham photo)

Auteur in the making

Mike Hisman (left) and JC Wilbur display the third-place awards they received for taking part in "Cut the Habit," an anti-smoking film festival sponsored by Healthy Community Coalition. Wilbur worked all winter and spring putting the film together and Hisman acted in it. Although the team they were on was billed as being from "Mt. Abram" they were the only two from MSAD #58 on the project. Six films in all were created from different Franklin County schools. All six films can be viewed on www.cutthehabit.org/gallery.
