RANGELEY — With nine teams in Western D boys' soccer, the Lakers finished sixth with a 2-7-3 record which withdrew them from any post season contention. Five teams are playing in the playoffs with Richmond leading the pack with an 11-2-0 record.

Seven teams compete in the ladies' Western D which sends the top four to the post season.

The Lady Lakers, with a 5-6-1 record, made the cut and are traveling to unbeaten Richmond for semifinal action on Oct. 30. Richmond has plenty of offense and only had four goals scored on them in the regular season.

The Lady Lakers enjoyed a 3-1 regular season win over Valley, a 2-1 victory over Vinalhaven and a 5-1 trump of Calvary Chapel. Also this season, they shut-out Calvary in a second match-up, 2-0, and beat Buckfield, 3-2. The Lakers only tie of the season came against Vinalhaven.

Second ranked Greenville played Valley to see who'll go to the regional Western D finals on Nov. 4.

New registration fees at tagging stations

AUGUSTA — With hunting seasons underway in Maine, the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife wants hunters to be aware that there is a new registration fee.

A $5 registration fee will be collected at tagging stations during the hunting season. The fee, which was approved by the Maine Legislature, aids in the collection and processing of registration and biological information regarding big game.

Tagging stations receive $1 to collect information and the department receives $4 to support the costs associated with inputting, processing and analyzing the collected data.

"This fee is critical to the management of all big game species in Maine," said Lee Kantar, IF&W deer and moose biologist. "Without this fee increase, we would be in an extremely difficult situation as to how we currently register big game species and collect critical information about these species that guide our management decisions."
