

Plaque highlights flag donations

By Laura Dunham
Special to the Irregular

STRATTON — In June of 2008 the Flags over Flagstaff project was started with 24 flags donated by the Coles Museum of Bangor that were matched by local people who donated toward the project.

Recently, the names of those who gave a flag were engraved on brass plates attached to a plaque that was placed on the wall at the Stratton-Eustis Community Building. The plaque was donated by the Flagstaff Area Business Association.

The flags this year, put up by volunteers, flew from Wyman Township to Jim Pond Township on Route 27 and then up Route 16, said Sue Fotter, chairman of the Flags over Flagstaff Project.

Fotter added that 44 of the flags were donated by TransCanada — one for each of the 44 wind turbines erected at Kibby. Boy Scout Troop #525 from the Sugarloaf region took down the flags this year.

“We still need more flags,” said Fotter, and anyone who wishes to pay $45 for a flag in memory of a loved one can contact her at Fotter’s Market.

Kingfield Water District Board to meet December 7

KINGFIELD — The Kingfield Water District Board of Trustees recently released its agenda for the Monday, Dec. 7 meeting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Kingfield Elementary School.

The meeting will begin with the board considering the minutes of the Nov. 2 meeting.

The fiscal report follows and will include the monthly warrant, fiscal status (sales, liens, accounts receivables, etc.), medical insurance details and any other pertinent matter.

If there is any more information regarding construction it will be considered next, including news about getting the deposit back.

The back-up well status and Harlan Pease’s electrical work progress follows.

The superintendent’s report, including the pumping volume and any leak detection is the fifth item on the agenda.

Next, the board will look over the bids received for clearing hydrants of snow this winter.

Then the board will work on the preliminary report in preparation for town meeting on March 6.

Any other matter that may have come up is next followed by executive session, if any is required, last. The next meeting is Monday, Jan. 4, 2010 at KES.

John Caldwell, a WWII veteran and town official is pictured with Flags over Flagstaff chairman Sue Fotter in front of the new memorial plaque that was put up recently at the Stratton-Eustis Community Building. The plaque features the names of those who contributed toward the 110 flags that fly on the streets of the communities.
(Laura Dunham photo)

Send your community news and photos to:
theirregular@tds.net

Kibby Wind Power Expansion Project

Open House

Tuesday, December 15, 2009
5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.
Stratton Community Building
Main Street, Stratton

Don't miss your opportunity to learn more about our plans to expand the Kibby Wind Power Project onto adjacent Sisk Mountain. We look forward to providing you with information on our permitting process, sharing visual simulations, and discussing the economic benefits of this proposed $100 million expansion project.

Bring your questions, ideas and input and we'll supply the refreshments. We're glad to be an active and long-term member of the Eustis/Stratton community.

If you cannot attend the event, but would like to know more, please contact:

TransCanada
Kibby Wind Power Expansion Project
52 Center Street
Portland, Maine 04101
1.877.943.3367

kibbywind@transcanada.com
www.transcanada.com/kibbywindpower

